The Problem

The loss of young people through the back door is a real issue for the church today. It is imperative that we take steps to make sure that as many as possible of those growing up in the church will remain active members.

It is not a lack of information that is a barrier to doing this.
Numbers

The headline from the first global summit on Nurture and Reclamation, in 2013, was “1 in 3 leave over the past 50 years.” Adventist Review November 2013

Roger Dudley put the figure even higher and concluded that up to 50 percent of those Adventist youth he studied, in a ten year longitudinal study, had either become inactive or dropped out by the conclusion of the study. Roger L Dudley, Why Our Teenagers Leave the Church (Hagerstown, MD: Review and Herald 2000).

“The church can have no higher priority than stemming the loss of young adults and winning back those who have left its ranks.” (Dudley)
We Affirm

1. “The purpose of the Church as the body of Christ is to intentionally disciple new members, so that they continue in an active and fruitful relationship with Christ and His Church.”

2. Discipleship is based on an ongoing, lifelong relationship with Jesus – the believer commits to “abiding in Christ” (John 15:8) and to being fruitful and sharing Him with others.
3. “Responsibility for ensuring that every church member remains part of the body of Christ, and for reconnecting and reconciling with those who do not, is mutually shared by the Church at large, each congregation, and every church member.”

Why Are They Leaving?

They are leaving for all sorts of reasons and some they find hard to articulate.

Could it be that many just don’t feel the church of their childhood faith is the same as that of their adult faith?

Today shouts loudly whilst the future seems a long way off.
Personal Research - Focus Points

1. Place a plan in operation throughout the world church that allows for every child growing up in an SDA home to receive access to a basic youth-based bible study course by the time they reach their 14th birthday.

2. This should be backed up by an youth first programme targeting the key transition ages of 14 and 17. Widespread Public Campus Ministry programmes including Discipleship groups are needed for 18-25+ age group.

3. We also need effective discipleship and ongoing Spiritual growth for the 30’s and 40’s age group. If we lose them we lose their children. This must happen at the local church level.

What is Church?
Church Matters

Adventist young people tell us that the church matters, not only in theory or as something to believe in but also regarding their own faith experience.

Church and Family

At creation God established the nuclear family; he made man and women parents and therefore responsible for future generations.

The Bible also speaks clearly of an extended family – the body of Christ – his church on earth, Hence we have two families, a nuclear family and an extended family.

Both the biological family and the extended church family are of vital importance in the nurture and care of our youth.

The iCOR-Initiative is fostering RELATIONSHIPS with the Values:

- CONNECTING: Connecting churches strive to form authentic and loving relationships across generational, cultural and social boundaries.

- CARING: Caring churches foster a loving attitude that reaches out to others with empathy and accepts them the way they are. They actively serve their good and support them in all areas of life.

- PARTICIPATING: Churches that encourage participation value the gifts and skills of their fellow human beings and create room for them to take part in forming all aspects of church life. In this way, they foster a sense of belonging and identification with the church.
The Ten iCOR Values – Spiritual Growth

• The iCOR-Initiative is fostering SPIRITUAL GROWTH with the Values:

  WORSHIPPING
  Churches understand worship as the daily practice of making the Gospel reality. They search for creative opportunities to celebrate worship in everyday life and are committed to making the Sabbath a meaningful experience.

  TEACHING
  Churches that are committed to communicate the Word of God and the Adventist message in a relevant and creative way that connects with the life realities.
The Ten iCOR Values - Empowerment

- The iCOR-Initiative is fostering EMPOWERMENT with the Values:

  - MENTORING: Churches that care about personally accompanying their children and youth in particular, but also adults in their walk of faith are committed to fostering spiritual mentoring relationships.

  - TRAINING: Churches that are open for learning provide training opportunities for their members to develop individual gifts and skills and promote services and ministries in the church.

  - LEADING: Strategical and purpose-driven churches lead with a vision and passion, integrating the younger generation in the leadership activities of the church.
The Ten iCOR Values - Mission

- The iCOR-Initiative is fostering MISSION with the Values:

  SERVING

  Mission and ministering always require an attitude of service. Serving churches follow the example of Jesus by ministering to the needs of others and seeking to discover new ways to serve.

  RECONCILING

  Reconciling and reconciled churches actively foster reconciliation and healing in the name of Jesus, both in the relationship to our heavenly Father and to each other.
A Spiritual Home To Which They Feel They Belong

Relevant preaching, meeting the spiritual needs of youth, and supporting and involving young people according to their spiritual gifts are the best predictors of young people remaining in the church.

Whereas the family is the strongest factor in becoming an Adventist. Turning childhood faith into Adult faith needs partnerships.

When it comes to remaining an Adventist, the experience in the local church is much more significant. In this respect a positive congregational climate (thinking climate and church warmth) is crucial.
